We "land-lubbers," as sailors call us, may not know the difference between a marline-spike and a ring-bolt or anything about heaving a log or rigging out a flying jib-boom, or furling a top-sail; but we all realize to greater or less extent the importance of a life-boat in every marine equipment. But do we feel the importance of a life-boat in the matter of the soul's rescue? There are times when we all feel that we are out at sea, and as many disturbing and fallen apart and rotten and ready to sink. "Well, well," you say. "No one will want to get into that life-boat." On his way 40 one of the stations at Budapest a French gentleman recently went into a hatter's shop and bought and put on a bat which had attracted him by its somewhat unusual color and shape. When he had been walking up and down the station some few minutes he was astonished to find in one of him to overcoat poskets a purse full of momey and in the other a gold watch.
